PASTOR'S PEN

This time of year, in this season of harvest, the Church invites us to think about the many saints who have gone before us in faith. Men and women who embodied the gifts of the Holy Spirit so well that their very lives mirrored the life of Jesus. One such person is St. Gaspar del Bufalo, the Founder of the Missionaries of the Precious Blood. As we celebrate his feast we are invited to reflect upon his life and the message of Jesus that he proclaimed in word and in action.

As a young priest in the early 1800's, St. Gaspar lived in the chaos of the French Revolution. During this time, Napoleon was forcing all the clergy to take an oath of allegiance to him instead of the pope who he had sent into exile. When challenged to take this oath Gaspar said, "I cannot, I will not I must not." Refusing to take the oath, Gaspar was exiled and put in various prisons for four years. It was during this time of suffering that he developed a love for the Precious Blood of Jesus through the guidance of a priest imprisoned with him, Fr. Francesco Albertini.

Once Napoleon was defeated, the Pope called upon Fr. Gaspar to preach renewal because Italy and the Church were in ruins. Many of the clergy had taken the oath of allegiance to Napoleon and led their flocks down the wrong path. Armed with the bible and the crucifix, St. Gaspar helped people to see beyond the reality of sin and suffering, to see a world redeemed through the Precious Blood of Jesus. When he viewed life through the lens of the Precious Blood he saw the face of Jesus revealed in every person he met. This truth stirred his heart into action! He brought devotion to the Blood of Christ out of the sanctuary and into the streets.

One of St. Gaspar's heroes was St. Vincent de Paul. St. Vincent once wrote, "Charity is certainly greater than any rule. Moreover, all rules must lead to charity. With renewed devotion, then, we must serve the poor, especially outcasts and beggars. They have been given to us as our masters and patrons." St. Gaspar built the Precious Blood congregation upon the foundation of the bond of charity. It is so natural that our rule of life flows out of Gaspar's devotion to the Blood of Christ because the Precious Blood of Jesus is the perfect act of charity; of putting love into action.

In our second reading from the Letter to the Hebrews we see that Jesus went beyond the gate, "outside the camp, to consecrate the people by his own blood." God is not only found in the sanctuary, but God is also found in the midst of suffering in the world. St. Gaspar once wrote, "Let us encourage each other evermore toward the pursuit of perfection and let us not cease studying the great book of the Crucifix. From that book, we learn profound humility, indomitable patience and gentle, industrious charity so that we are able to attract souls to his love.

On this World Mission Sunday, we may have the impression that "mission" is for those who go to foreign lands and proclaim the gospel of Jesus Christ. And yet, the Church teaches that all of us are called to mission, to go "outside the gate." "The Church on earth is by her nature missionary since, according to the plan of the Father, she has her origin in the mission of the Son and the Holy Spirit." "Because she believes in God's universal plan of salvation, the Church must be missionary." (Catechism of the Catholic Church par. 850 & 851)

We live in a culture of division and polarization and it can be overwhelming to think we are called to fix our broken society and Church. Our focus need only be on our corner of the world, to look for ways in our life to live beyond division recognizing that "the Blood of Christ has made the two of us one by breaking down the barrier of hostility that kept us apart." (Eph. 2:14)

From the Joyful Noiseletter:

Found in the Feb. 2, 1898 issue of Zion's Herald: "People don't die very often here (Philadelphia), do they?" inquired the smart New Yorker. "No, only once," replied the Philadelphian. And there was an intense silence.
